A weekly update of KUCCPS career guidance activities

After Form Four, what next? Many learners grapple with this question as they approach the end of their secondary education. Our bi-weekly edition brings you stories from across the counties on how KUCCPS continues to make it easier for young people, parents and other members of the public to access the information they need to make informed decisions as they plan their transition to higher education and training. Enjoy reading!

Kenyans Share Their Views on Proposed Education Laws

KUCCPS joined education stakeholders and members of the public at a public hearing on six proposed education sector Bills held at the Kenya Coast National Polytechnic in Mombasa. The hearing was presided over by the National Assembly's Departmental Committee on Education and provided an opportunity for Kenyans to share their views on the proposed legislation. KUCCPS was also represented in similar hearings in other counties. Among other objectives, the Bills seek to harmonise various functions in the education sector including student placement.

Nakuru learners benefit from a weeklong career guidance and mentorship activities

The Placement Service conducted a weeklong career outreach programme covering 24 secondary schools across Subukia Sub-County, bringing career guidance and information on tertiary education opportunities closer to students. The sessions focused on helping Form Four students and junior school students to understand education and career options, make informed course choices and learn more about the placement application process. The KUCCPS career outreach programme promotes equitable access to information, particularly for learners who may not otherwise have easy access to career guidance services.

Bungoma Teachers Equipped to Guide Learners on Career Choices

Recognising the important role teachers play in shaping learners' aspirations, KUCCPS recently undertook a three-day career guidance initiative in Bungoma County. Officers worked with career teachers across Kimaeta, Bumula, Bungoma Central and Bungoma West, equipping more than 100 teachers with tools and information to strengthen career mentorship in their schools. The team also reached thousands of candidates and learners in dozens of schools, offering guidance on education pathways, transitions and opportunities beyond secondary school. The schools included St. Kizito Mayanja, Mateka, Bungoma High, Chwele Girls, Chebukaka Girls and Sichei Friends. The initiative benefited from the support of local education administration, reinforcing the importance of working together to ensure that learners receive reliable career information at the right time.

Stakeholders Come Together to Shape a Better Future for Education in Kisii, Nyamira Counties

Education Cabinet Secretary Hon. Julius Migos Ogamba led education stakeholders for dialogue on the future of education in Kisii and Nyamira counties during a conference held at Kisii University. The convention brought together education stakeholders to celebrate progress made in the sector, reflect on challenges that continue to affect learners, and explore practical ways of enhancing quality in and equitable access to higher education and training in the region. KUCCPS was among the institutions participating in the event. Local leaders and university officials, led by Kisii University Chancellor Dr. Sarah Ruto, visited the KUCCPS exhibition booth and commended the Placement Service for its continued efforts to bring career guidance and placement opportunities closer to learners across the country. KUCCPS CEO Dr. Agnes Mercy Wahome received the officials. For KUCCPS, engagements such as these are an opportunity to connect directly with learners, parents and education stakeholders and help young people make informed decisions about their education and career journeys.

International TVET Conference Highlights Need for Sustainable Skills Development

The future of work is changing and technical and vocational skills are becoming increasingly important in preparing young people for a competitive job market. This was the essence of the International TVET Conference 2026, in which KUCCPS participated. Held in Nairobi under the theme Skills That Work: Advancing Industry-TVET Collaboration for Sustainable Skills and Global Competitiveness, the conference brought together about 500 delegates from TVET institutions across Africa, international partners and other education stakeholders. KUCCPS involvement in the conference underscored commitment to its mission, which is to provide effective and efficient placement and career guidance services to students for globally competitive human capital and sustainable socio-economic development in Kenya.

Career Guidance at the ASK Show in Nyeri County

At the ASK Show Kabiruini in Nyeri County, KUCCPS was on-site to provide information on its services and answer questions from the public. Nyeri Governor H.E. Mutahi Kahiga, EGH, together with County Commissioner Mr. Joshat Biwott, acknowledged the work of the KUCCPS desk at the Nyeri Huduma Centre in supporting parents and students to make informed career choices. The KUCCPS desk at the Huduma Centre in Nyeri is open Monday to Friday, from 8.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m., providing an accessible point where learners and parents can seek guidance and information on education and career opportunities.
